CELEBRATING WORLD SPARROW DAY 2024

Zoology Department 20/03/2024

Sparrows have unique place in our ecosystem as they contribute in the enrichment of our biodiversity, boosting plant growth and making our planet healthier and greener. Every year, World Sparrow Day is observed on 20th March with the intention of creating awareness about the importance of the existence of sparrows for our ecosystem and biodiversity. Accordingly, department of Zoology conducted a one-day workshop to create awareness about importance of sparrows in the ecosystem. Dr. Sameer Jadhav, the resource person enlightened the students about the role of house sparrows in the ecosystem. Similarly, Dr Vitthal Nale and Mr. Kishor More gave a talk on habit and habitat of house sparrows and changing demography due to climate change. Dr. S. P. Chordiya guided the students in the filed visit and explained the measures to conserve the sparrow population. The program was attended by 38 students of the department.

Sub: Report of celebration of World Sparrow Day, March'2024.

Respected Sir,

Every year, World Sparrow Day is observed on 20th March to increase the awareness about declining population of the house sparrows, an important component of our ecosystem.

Accordingly, department of Zoology had observed this day by arranging a lecture & field visit that helped to increase the awareness about the issue among the participants.

Dr. Sameer Jadhav enlightened the students about the role of house sparrows in the ecosystem. Dr. Vitthal Nale elaborated the habit & habitat of the house sparrow whereas Mr. Kishor U. More (Asst. Professor) highlighted the changes in habitat of the sparrow with changing demography. Mr. Mayur Shitole elaborated about threats to the population of sparrows.

Dr. S. P. Chordiya guided the students in field visit and explained the measures to conserve the sparrow population.

Total 38 students and all faculties and non-teaching staff-members attended this program.

I am submitting this report for your perusal.

Thanking you,

Yours' Sincerely,
