Department of Political Science

DEPARTMENT PROFILE

The department of Political Science was established with the inception of the college in 1962. It has helped steer the career paths of many students who are strong aspirants of political science. Dr. Hanumant Phatak has been leading the department as the head. The department has seen a success rate of 90% over the course of these decades. Dedicated and committed teachers help to impart the latest and the best knowledge to students. The department has a well-stocked library that caters to the educational needs of the students.

The department of Political Science aspires to be a global leader in the pursuit of knowledge and the advancement of critical thinking in the realm of political science. Our vision is to foster a vibrant academic community that engages with the complex and ever-evolving dynamics of politics, governance, and society. We aim to empower our students, faculty, and the broader society to make informed decisions, challenge conventional wisdom, and contribute to a more just and equitable world.

MISSION

The mission of the department is to provide high-quality education, research, and public engagement opportunities that cultivate an in-depth understanding of political systems, ideologies, and the impact of government policies on societies.

KEY FEATURES

a) Faculty Expertise: The department teachers have an expertise in various subfields of political science, such as international relations, comparative politics, political theory, and public policy.

b) Research Opportunities: The Political Science department offers research opportunities for students, allowing them to work with faculty or engage in independent research projects.

c) Academic Programs: These could include undergraduate and post graduate programs, as well as specific concentrations or majors related to political science.
